Discussion Questions

1. Read Genesis 3:1-24. When we are enticed by something that we know is outside the boundaries of what God has intended for us, the longer we “gaze” at it, the longer the thoughts will linger in our minds, and the more tempted we will be to act on it. Take time to discuss some areas of struggle that we are faced with on a regular basis.
2. What are some practical ways that we can minimize the temptations discussed above and ultimately guard against giving into those temptations?
3. Adam and Eve’s disobedience set them on a path that took them further and further away from God. First, they tried to cover up what they were ashamed of. Second, they tried to hide from God. Finally, they blamed others for their actions. Why is it difficult for some to admit their wrongdoing? What are some consequences of not owning up to one’s bad choices from the beginning?
4. Read Romans 5:17. How is the creation account and the subsequent fall of man connected to the work of Jesus Christ on the cross? What will you do this week to demonstrate to those around you that the God of creation has redeemed you?
