Have you seen how your prayer life has changed you? Share some of the ways you see God working in you through prayer.

Notice v. 16. Habakkuk made the decision to trust God in His trembling. Why is that so encouraging? (i.e. trusting doesn't mean everything magically becomes calm but rather your fighting for a calm reliance on God in the midst of your trembling)

Do you find yourself spending more time trying to get God on your program or more time seeking to be aligned with His program? Explain.

Notice vv. 17-18. Habakkuk made the decision to resolve to rejoice regardless. Notice Habakkuk's "what ifs" in v. 17. What are the "what ifs" in your life, that if they happened, it would be really hard to rejoice in God? (i.e. kids, job, finances, health, relationships etc)

What items in your life need to move from the place of "what if" to "even if"?

How's your fight for joy in God going? And how do you make joy grow? (fight unbelief with the promises of God's word over your feelings, pray, trust, act on what is true, thank God)

To get to the place where God is enough, it requires his strength (v. 19). Talk about how God's strength is described in the verse and how it can be practically applied in your life. Use Scripture to support.
