

Solus Christus

“Christ is lovely,
Christ is very lovely,
Christ is most lovely,
Christ is always lovely,
Christ is altogether
lovely.”

–Thomas Brooks

Finding your Identity in Christ Alone

Learning to Follow Christ Alone

“When you gaze upon the sun—it makes everything else dark; when you taste honey—it makes everything else tasteless.

Likewise, when your soul feeds on Jesus —it takes away the sweetness of all earthly things; praise, pleasure, fleshly lusts, all lose their sweetness.

Keep a continued gaze! Run, looking unto Jesus. So will the world be crucified to you—and you unto the world!”

– Robert Murray M’Cheyne

MORNING AFFIRMATIONS OF FAITH

I am accepted, because the guilt of my sin is covered by the righteousness of Christ.

I am freed from bondage to sin, through the power of Jesus the Messiah.

I am not alone, but accompanied by the Counselor, the Spirit of the Messiah.

I am in command, with the freedom to resist and expel the powers of darkness.

Witnessing to the Exclusivity of Christ Alone

“We say Christ alone because there’s no room for anyone or anything else . . . It’s not about being narrow. It’s just about naming the true Lord of this world. The true Lord of this world is not Buddha or Allah or Krishna, He’s Jesus. The true Lord of this world is not money, sex or power, He’s Jesus. The true Lord of this world is not a big bang or a tiny particle or a long equation, He’s Jesus.”

–Glen Scrivener

We see that our whole salvation and all its parts are comprehended in Christ. We should therefore take care not to derive the least portion of it from anywhere else.

If we seek salvation we are taught by the very name of Jesus that it is “of him.”

If we seek any other gifts of the Spirit, they will be found in his anointing.

If we seek strength, it lies in his dominion;
if purity, in his conception;

if gentleness, it appears in his birth. For by his birth he was made like us in all respects that he might learn to feel our pain.

If we seek redemption, it lies in his passion;

if acquittal, in his condemnation;

if remission of the curse, in his cross;

if satisfaction, in his sacrifice;

if purification, in his blood;

if reconciliation, in his descent into hell;

if mortification of the flesh, in his tomb;

if newness of life, in his resurrection;

if immortality, in the same;

if inheritance of the Heavenly Kingdom, in his entrance into heaven;

if protection, if security, if abundant supply of all blessings, in his Kingdom;

if untroubled expectation of judgment, in the power given to him to judge.

In short, since rich store of every kind of good abounds in him, let us drink our fill from this fountain and from no other.

—John Calvin

Hoping in the Coming of Christ Alone

“Welcome, child,” he said.

“Aslan,” said Lucy, “you’re bigger.”

“That is because you are older, little one,” answered he.

“Not because you are?”

“I am not. But every year you grow, you will find me bigger.”

–C.S. Lewis, Prince Caspian
